

HAMERSLEY

Artist-in-residence Roslyn Nolen works with a group of students on a mural.

Students add colour

MURALS ARE WELL RECEIVED

ARTIST Roslyn Nolen has worked with students at East Hamersley Primary School to create a set of unique murals in the school's undercover area.

The murals, which had input from the entire school community, represent the vision and values of the school.

Mrs Nolen worked with students from Kindergarten to Year 6 on sketches that included local flora and fauna.

The sketches were drawn on the walls and students had the opportunity to paint sections of the murals.

East Hamersley Primary School principal Lyn Dawson said the murals have been well received.

"It has created a lot of interest in the school undercover area with students, parents and the wider community," Ms Dawson said.

"The school's vision and values will be forever showcased at future assemblies and community events.

"Special thanks to Frank and his team from Bunnings Balcatta for their wonderful donation of paint and help with the painting."

